

2025 Connecticut Watercolor Society - Autumn Exhibition

Laura J. Eden – Laura Eden studied art at Syracuse University and the University of Connecticut, receiving her BFA from UCONN in 1980. Following college, she taught art at Watkinson School and she has been a full-time artist ever since, teaching privately and conducting workshops and demos for numerous art organizations. She was an elected member, and past board member of the Connecticut Plein Air Painters Society. She is a founding member and past president of the Granby Artists Association. After being a watercolorist for 22 years Laura switched mediums to egg tempera in 2002. Her work may be viewed at: www.lauraedenart.com.
